Venue: Mukesh Patel School of Technology Management

Main Report:

With this year's induction program underway and off to a refreshing start, the second years of SPPSPTM's B.Pharm+MBA program were tasked with organising a meet and greet event for the first year B.Pharm+MBA and M.Pharm students, with the help of our extracurricular head, Dr. Amisha Vora.

The event began with anchors Heer Naik, Dia Choudhry, and Vastavi Sawant, opening with an address from our esteemed Dean, Dr. Jaganath Sahoo, followed by an important message from our Anti-Ragging Committee, educating the students about the norms, practices and values of SPPSPTM and life as well.

With students lined up to perform all afternoon, a classical Welcome Dance was performed, blessing the event with the grace of god. Next, to set the mood for the afternoon, Gurkirat and Kshiraja serenaded the audience with a soulful duet.

Following this, a dramatic satire was performed by students of 2nd Year B.Pharm+MBA, highlighting their life in their first year as students in this college. To keep things entertaining, while giving the performers a break to rest, a game show was organised. Friendly Feud, a take on the famous Family Feud game was played, in groups of 2.

Then came the performance that stole the show, a group dance over a myriad of songs that brought both boys and girls of SPPSPTM together.

A montage video was played, showcasing all the memorable moments that made college enjoyable and forged friendships that would shape our formative years. It shined light on the life that awaited the first years.

The day ended with a performance by the college band, performing a medley that bridged the worlds of English and Bollywood music together. This was the final performance by the students, bringing the day to a close with the Vote of Thanks, delivered by second year CR's, Ansh Dube and Krish Doshi.

The students and faculty alike had a great time at Parichay 2025.

Over to the next batch.
